REDACTED

Plaintiffs bring this class action for damages, injunctive relief, and other relief pursuant to federal antitrust laws and state unjust enrichment, antitrust, unfair competition, and consumer protection laws, demand a trial by jury, and allege as follows:

NATURE OF ACTION

1. This lawsuit is brought as a proposed class action against Defendants DENSO Corporation, DENSO International America, Inc. (together, “Denso Defendants” or “DENSO”), Mitsuba Corporation, American Mitsuba Corporation (together, “Mitsuba Defendants” or “Mitsuba”), and unnamed co-conspirators, manufacturers and/or suppliers of Power Window Motors (defined below) for engaging in a long-running conspiracy to unlawfully fix, artificially raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices, rig bids for, and allocate the market and customers in the United States for Power Window Motors.

2. Plaintiffs seek to represent all automobile dealers who, during the period from and including January 1, 2000 through the present (the “Class Period”), purchased vehicles containing the Power Window Motor(s) as a component part, or indirectly purchased the Power Window Motor(s) as a replacement part, which were manufactured or sold by the Defendants, any current or former subsidiary of the Defendants or any co-conspirator of the Defendants.

3. “Power Window Motors” are small electric motors used to raise and lower vehicle windows.

4. The Defendants manufacture, market, and sell Power Window Motors throughout and into the United States. The Defendants and other co-conspirators (as yet unknown) agreed, combined and conspired to fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices, and rig bids and allocate market shares for Power Window Motors.

5. The U.S. Department of Justice’s (“DOJ”) Antitrust Division is currently conducting a broad criminal investigation into illegal price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automotive parts industry. As part of its criminal investigation, the DOJ is seeking information about unlawful anticompetitive conduct in the market for a number of different but related automotive parts, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (“FBI”) has participated in raids, pursuant to search warrants, carried out in the offices of a number of major competitors in the automotive parts industry. The automotive parts investigation is the largest criminal investigation the Antitrust Division has ever pursued, both in terms of its scope and the potential volume of commerce affected by the alleged illegal conduct. The ongoing cartel investigation of price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automotive parts industry has yielded more than $2.3 billion in criminal fines.

6. On September 26, 2013, the DOJ announced that Mitsuba Corporation agreed to plead guilty and pay a $135 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to fix prices of Power Window Motors, among other automotive products, installed in automobiles sold in the United States and elsewhere.

7. The European Commission Competition Authority (“EC”), the Japanese Fair Trade Commission (“JFTC”), and other foreign competition authorities have also investigated collusive conduct in the automotive parts industry and have levied fines against automotive parts manufacturers for operating cartels related to automotive parts. The JFTC has raided the offices of Defendant Mitsuba Corporation. The EC has also conducted dawn raids at the European offices of several automotive parts manufacturers.

8. On November 22, 2012, the JFTC handed down fines totaling $41.3 million against various automotive parts manufacturers, including a $13.5 million fine against Mitsuba Corporation for violating antitrust laws by forming a cartel to fix prices for various automotive parts. On November 22, 2012, the JFTC also announced cease-and-desist orders against the violating companies, including Mitsuba Corporation, requiring them to (i) immediately pass resolutions that they would terminate and illegal conduct, (ii) contact any automobile maker who may have purchased their parts through collusive bidding processes, and (iii) implement employee compliance programs.

9. The Defendants and their co-conspirators participated in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, Power Window Motors sold to automobile manufacturers and others in the United States. The combination and conspiracy engaged in by the Defendants and their co-conspirators was in unreasonable restraint of interstate and foreign trade and commerce in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1, and state antitrust, unfair competition and consumer protection laws.

12. As a direct result of the anti-competitive and unlawful conduct alleged herein, Plaintiffs and the Classes (as defined below) paid artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors during the Class Period and have thereby suffered antitrust injury to their business or property.

REDACTED

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

13. Plaintiffs bring this action under Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 26) to secure equitable and injunctive relief against the Defendants for violating Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1). Plaintiffs also assert claims for actual and exemplary damages pursuant to state antitrust, unfair competition and consumer protection laws, and seek to obtain restitution, recover damages and secure other relief against the Defendants for violations of those state laws. Plaintiffs and the Classes also seek attorneys' fees, costs, and other expenses under federal and state law.

14. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 26), Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1), and Title 28, United States Code, Sections 1331 and 1337. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction of the state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(d) and 1367, in that: (i) this is a class action in which the matter or controversy exceeds the sum of $5,000,000, exclusive of interests and costs, and in which some members of the proposed Classes are citizens of a state different from the Defendants; and (ii) Plaintiffs' state law claims form part of the same case or controversy as their federal claims under Article III of the United States Constitution.

15. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to Section 12 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 22), and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391 (b), (c), and (d), because a substantial part of the events giving rise to Plaintiffs' claims occurred in this District, a substantial portion of the affected interstate trade and commerce discussed below has been carried out in this District, and the Defendants reside, are licensed to do business in, are doing business in, had agents in, or are found or transact business in this District.

16. This Court has in personam jurisdiction over the Defendants because the Defendants, either directly or through the ownership and/or control of their subsidiaries, inter alia: (a) transacted business in the United States, including in this District; (b) directly or indirectly sold or marketed substantial quantities of Power Window Motors throughout the United States, including in this District; (c) had substantial aggregate contacts with the United States as a whole, including in this District; (d) targeted customers in the United States, including this District; or (e) were engaged in an illegal price-fixing conspiracy that was directed at, and had a direct, substantial, reasonably foreseeable and intended effect of causing injury to the business or property of persons and entities residing in, located in, or doing business throughout the United States, including in this District. The Defendants also conduct business throughout the United States, including in this District, and have purposefully availed themselves of the laws of the United States.

17. The Defendants engaged in conduct both inside and outside of the United States that caused direct, substantial and reasonably foreseeable and intended anticompetitive effects upon interstate commerce within the United States and import commerce into the United States.

18. The activities of the Defendants and their co-conspirators were within the flow of, were intended to, and did have, a substantial effect on interstate commerce of the United States. The Defendants' products are sold in the flow of interstate commerce.

19. Power Window Motors manufactured abroad by the Defendants and sold for use in automobiles in the United States are goods brought into the United States for sale, and therefore constitute import commerce. To the extent any Power Window Motors are purchased in the United States, and such Power Window Motors do not constitute import commerce, the Defendants' unlawful activities with respect thereto, as more fully alleged herein during the Class Period, had, and continue to have, a direct, substantial and reasonably foreseeable effect on United States commerce. The anticompetitive conduct, and its effect on United States commerce described herein, proximately caused antitrust injury to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes in the United States.

20. By reason of the unlawful activities hereinafter alleged, the Defendants substantially affected commerce throughout the United States, causing injury to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes. The Defendants, directly and through their agents, engaged in activities affecting all states, to fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices, rig bids and allocate the market and customers in the United States for Power Window Motors, which conspiracy unreasonably restrained trade and adversely affected the market for Power Window Motors.

21. The Defendants' conspiracy and wrongdoing described herein adversely affected automobile dealers in the United States.

Power Window Motors that were purchased throughout the United States, including in this District, during the Class Period, including by firms that sold such Power Window Motors to Plaintiffs and Class members.

116. Defendant DENSO International America, Inc. is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Southfield, Michigan. It is a subsidiary of and wholly owned and/or controlled by its parent, DENSO Corporation. At all times during the Class Period, its activities in the United States were under the control and direction of its Japanese parent, which controlled its policies, sales, and finances. DENSO International America, Inc. – directly and/or through its subsidiaries, which it wholly owned and/or controlled – manufactured, marketed, and/or sold Power Window Motors that were purchased throughout the United States, including in this District, during the Class Period, including by firms that sold such Power Window Motors to Plaintiffs and/or Class members. According to DENSO’s website, DENSO International America, Inc. is “DENSO’s North American regional headquarters and parent company for its North American operations, original equipment (OE) sales, product engineering and technical support to OE sales and finance.”

117. A number of Denso America’s executives work or have worked for Denso Corporation. Kazumasa Kimura, the COO of Denso America, served as one of Denso Corporation’s executive directors. Kimura is also the former director of the Global Sales and Business Development Division of Denso Corporation. Similarly, Hikaru “Howard” Sugi, the President and CEO of Denso America, is the senior executive director of Denso Corporation.

AGENTS AND CO-CONSPIRATORS

118. Each Defendant acted as the principal of or agent for the other Defendants with respect to the acts, violations, and common course of conduct alleged herein.

REDACTED

119. Various persons, partnerships, sole proprietors, firms, corporations and individuals not named as defendants in this lawsuit, and individuals, the identities of which are presently unknown, have participated as co-conspirators with the Defendants in the offenses alleged in this Complaint, and have performed acts and made statements in furtherance of the conspiracy or in furtherance of the anticompetitive conduct.

120. Whenever in this Complaint reference is made to any act, deed or transaction of any corporation or limited liability entity, the allegation means that the corporation or limited liability entity engaged in the act, deed or transaction by or through its officers, directors, agents, employees or representatives while they were actively engaged in the management, direction, control or transaction of the corporation's or limited liability entity's business or affairs.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. The Power Window Motors Industry

121. Power Window Motors are small electric motors used to raise and lower vehicle windows. A type of Power Window Motor manufactured by Mitsuba is shown below.

Power window motors

122. Power Window Motors are installed by original equipment manufacturers (“OEMs”) in new cars as part of the automotive manufacturing process. They are also installed by OEMs in cars to replace worn out, defective or damaged Power Window Motors.

123. For new cars, the OEMs—mostly large automotive manufacturers such as Toyota Motor Corporation and Fuji Heavy Industries Ltd. (Subaru)—purchase Power Window Motors directly from the Defendants. Power Window Motors may also be purchased by component manufacturers who then supply such systems to OEMs.

124. When purchasing Power Window Motors, OEMs issue Requests for Quotation (“RFQs”) to automotive parts suppliers on a model-by-model basis for model specific parts. Automotive parts suppliers submit quotations, or bids, to OEMs in response to RFQs, and the OEMs usually award the business to the selected automotive parts supplier for the lifespan of the model, which is usually four to six years. Typically, the bidding process for a particular model begins approximately three years prior to the start of production of a new model. OEMs procure parts for U.S.-manufactured vehicles in the United States and elsewhere.

125. The Defendants and their co-conspirators supplied Power Window Motors to OEMs for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States and elsewhere. The Defendants and their co-conspirators manufactured Power Window Motors (a) in the United States and elsewhere for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States, (b) in Japan and elsewhere for export to the United States and installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States, and (c) in Japan and elsewhere for installation in vehicles manufactured in Japan and elsewhere for export to and sale in the United States.

126. DENSO’s main customers include: Honda, Toyota, General Motors, Mercedes-Benz, BMW, Ford, Chrysler, Subaru, Mazda, Suzuki, Mitsubishi, Nissan, Kia, Hyundai, Volvo, among others.

127. Mitsuba’s main customers include Chrysler, Honda, Subaru, Nissan and Toyota, among others.

128. Plaintiffs and members of the proposed Classes purchased Power Window Motors indirectly from the Defendants or their co-conspirators. By way of example, an automobile dealer indirectly purchases one or more Power Window Motor(s) from the Defendants or their co-conspirators as part of purchasing a new vehicle. An automobile dealer also indirectly purchases for replacement one or more Power Window Motor(s) from the Defendants or their co-conspirators when repairing a damaged vehicle or where one or more of the vehicle's Power Window Motors are defective.

129. Suppliers, including Defendants, supply OEMs with both Power Window Motors to be installed in vehicles and Power Window Motors to be used for replacement purposes.

130. Replacement Power Window Motors sold by OEMs to dealerships are the same as Power Window Motors installed in vehicles and are made by the same manufacturer who made the Power Window Motors originally installed – that is the purpose of an OEM part, made by the OEM supplier. Such replacement parts are not the same as aftermarket parts, which are made by different manufacturers than those who manufactured the original parts. The prices of replacement Power Window Motors were inflated by Defendants' collusion.

B. The Structure and Characteristics of the Power Window Motors Market Render the Conspiracy More Plausible

131. The structure and other characteristics of the Power Window Motors market in the United States are conducive to a price-fixing agreement, and have made collusion particularly attractive in this market. Specifically, the Power Window Motors market: (1) has high barriers to entry; and (2) has inelasticity of demand.

1. The Power Window Motors Market Has High Barriers to Entry

132. A collusive arrangement that raises product prices above competitive levels would, under basic economic principles, attract new entrants seeking to benefit from the supra-competitive pricing. Where, however, there are significant barriers to entry, new entrants are less likely. Thus, barriers to entry help to facilitate the formation and maintenance of a cartel.

REDACTED

133. There are substantial barriers that preclude, reduce, or make more difficult entry into the Power Window Motors market. A new entrant into the business would face costly and lengthy start-up costs, including multi-million dollar costs associated with manufacturing plants and equipment, energy, transportation, distribution infrastructure, and long-standing customer relationships.

134. Mitsuba Corporation owns several patents related to the manufacture of Power Window Motors. These patents place a significant and costly burden on potential new entrants, who must avoid infringing on the patents when entering the market with a new product.

135. In addition, OEMs cannot change Power Window Motors suppliers randomly after a supplier is initially selected because the OEMs design the features of their vehicles so that the Power Window Motors they purchase for a vehicle are then integrated with the other components of the ignition system of the particular vehicle model. Thus, the design must be synergized by the Power Window Motors manufacturers and OEMs. It would be difficult for a new market entrant to do so.

2. There is Inelasticity of Demand for Power Window Motors

136. “Elasticity” is a term used to describe the sensitivity of supply and demand to changes in one or the other. For example, demand is said to be “inelastic” if an increase in the price of a product results in only a small decline in the quantity sold of that product, if any. In other words, customers have nowhere to turn for alternative, cheaper products of similar quality, and so continue to purchase despite a price increase.

137. For a cartel to profit from raising prices above competitive levels, demand must be relatively inelastic at competitive prices. Otherwise, increased prices would result in declining sales, revenues, and profits, as customers purchased substitute products or declined to buy altogether. Inelastic demand is a market characteristic that facilitates collusion, allowing producers to raise their prices without triggering customer substitution and lost sales revenue.

138. Demand for Power Window Motors is highly inelastic because there are no close substitutes for these products. In addition, customers must purchase Power Window Motors as an essential part of a vehicle, even if the prices are kept at a supra-competitive level.

C. Government Investigations

139. A globally coordinated antitrust investigation is taking place in the United States, Europe, and Japan, aimed at suppliers of automotive parts. A Japan Fair Trade Commission (“JFTC”) official told a leading legal publication that automotive parts supplier investigations by the JFTC, DOJ and EC would continue to widen because the automotive industry as a whole comprises many sub-industries. He characterized the investigations being conducted by the U.S., European and Japanese antitrust authorities as “large and broad,” and he declined to deny that this “would be history’s largest case.”

140. In 2011, the JFTC began investigating various automotive parts manufacturers probing allegations that these manufacturers were allocating contracts to each other and to avoid competing for supply contracts with Honda, Nissan Motor Co., Ltd., Suzuki Motor Co. and Fuji Heavy Industries, Ltd., the owner of Subaru. The probe found that some of the automotive parts manufacturers had collusively agreed to split into varying groups for the differing purchasers and the different parts.

141. The JFTC raided offices of Defendants as part of the spreading investigation of suspected price-fixing of automotive parts. The companies raided included DENSO. According to its 2011 Annual Report, DENSO was investigated on July 20, 2011 at various locations, including in Kariya, Aichi and some other sales branches in Japan.

REDACTED

142. On November 22, 2012, the JFTC handed down fines totaling $41.3 million against various automotive parts manufacturers. On November 22, 2012, the JFTC also announced cease-and-desist orders against the violating companies, requiring them to (i) immediately pass resolutions that they would terminate any illegal conduct; (ii) contact any automobile maker who may have purchased their parts through collusive bidding processes; and (iii) implement employee compliance programs. According to the JFTC, DENSO violated antitrust laws, but did not receive a cease-and-desist order.

143. The companies rigged the bidding process for supply contracts with automobile makers for automotive parts by pre-selecting the winners and losers. The JFTC explained that these companies “substantially restrained competition in the fields of each product ordered by each automobile company, by designating successful bidders.”

146. The DOJ Antitrust Division’s broad criminal investigation into illegal price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automotive parts industry is the largest criminal investigation the Antitrust Division has ever pursued. The ongoing cartel investigation of price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automobile parts industry has yielded approximately $2.3 billion in criminal fines.

147. On September 26, 2013, the DOJ announced that Defendant Mitsuba Corporation agreed to pay a $135 million criminal fine and to plead guilty to a two-count criminal information charging it with obstruction of justice and participating in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, Power Window Motors, among other automotive parts, sold to automobile manufacturers, including Chrysler, Honda, Subaru, Nissan and Toyota, in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as January 2000 and continuing until at least February 2010, in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

148. According to the Information filed, Defendant Mitsuba Corporation and its co-conspirators carried out the Power Window Motors conspiracy by:

(a) participating in meetings, conversations, and communications in the United States and elsewhere to discuss the bids and price quotations to be submitted to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere;

(b) agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, on bids and price quotations to be submitted to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere;

(c) agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, to allocate the supply of Power Window Motors sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere;

(d) agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, to coordinate price adjustments requested by automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere;

(e) submitting bids, price quotations, and price adjustments to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere in accordance with the agreements reached;

REDACTED

(f) selling Power Window Motors to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices;

(g) accepting payment for Power Window Motors sold to automobile manufacturers in the United State and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices;

(h) engaging in meetings, conversations, and communications in the United States and elsewhere for the purpose of monitoring and enforcing adherence to the agreed-upon bid-rigging and price-fixing scheme; and

(i) employing measures to keep their conduct secret, including, but not limited to, using code names and meeting at remote locations.

149. With respect to the obstruction of justice count, the criminal information charged as follows:

In or about February 2010, Executive A, acting on Defendant's behalf, knowingly altered, destroyed, mutilated, concealed, covered up, falsified and made false entries in records, documents and tangible objects with the intent to impede, obstruct, and influence the investigation and proper administration of a matter within the jurisdiction of a department and agency of the United States, to wit, an investigation by the FBI and the United States Department of Justice of possible violations of U.S. antitrust law, in relation to and contemplation of such matter and case, and furthermore did order and command other employees of the Defendant to do so, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1519.

After becoming aware of the FBI search of Defendant's co-conspirator's U.S. offices, Executive A informed certain of his subordinates employed at the U.S. subsidiary of Defendant about the FBI search, and instructed such subordinates, as well as other employees of Defendant, to locate, conceal and destroy documents and electronic files that were likely to contain evidence of antitrust crimes in the United States and elsewhere.

Executive A concealed and destroyed documents and electronic files in his possession, custody and control in the Eastern District of Michigan that were likely to contain evidence of antitrust crimes in the United States and elsewhere. Certain of Executive A's subordinates and other employees of Defendant took acts in the Eastern District of Michigan and elsewhere to endeavor to conceal and destroy such documents and electronic files in the possession, custody and control of Defendant, and did conceal and destroy such documents and electronic files.

150. Mitsuba Corporation's guilty plea also alleges that

Executive B of the defendant, a senior executive of the defendant and a member of the defendant's Board of Directors, and Executive C, a senior executive of the defendant, also became aware of the search and directed certain of their subordinates and other employees that documents and electronic files in the possession, custody and control of the defendant in Japan should be concealed and destroyed. Executive B's and C's subordinates and other employees took acts to conceal and destroy such evidence, and did conceal and destroy such evidence.

151. Defendant DENSO International America, Inc. was raided by the FBI on February 24, 2010.

D. Existence of a Cooperating Defendant

152. The Antitrust Criminal Penalty Enhancement and Reform Act ("ACPERA") provides leniency benefits for a participant in a price-fixing conspiracy that voluntarily discloses its conduct to the Department of Justice. In most recent cases in which guilty pleas for price-fixing conduct have been obtained, there has been a cooperating party that has been accepted into the DOJ's ACPERA program as an "amnesty applicant." One of the leniency benefits for a conspirator that is accepted into the ACPERA program is that it is not charged with a criminal offense and is not required to plead guilty to criminal charges.

153. In light of the guilty plea in this case, guilty pleas in related automotive parts antitrust cases and the DOJ's ongoing investigation into the industry, it is reasonable for this Court to infer that there is an ACPERA "amnesty applicant" in this case.

E. Guilty Pleas in Related Markets in the Automotive Industry

154. On January 30, 2012, the DOJ announced that DENSO Corporation had agreed to pay a $78 million fine and plead guilty to a two-count criminal information charging DENSO Corporation with: (1) participating in a combination and conspiracy with its co-conspirators to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, Electronic Control Units sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as January 2000 and continuing until at least February 2010 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1; and (2) participating in a combination and conspiracy with its co-conspirators to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of Heater Control Panels sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as January 2000 and continuing until at least February 2010 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

155. DENSO's plea agreement requires it and its subsidiaries to cooperate with the DOJ, including producing documents in their control and providing their "directors, officers and employees . . ." for interviews and the provision of testimony in grand jury, trial and other judicial proceedings.

156. According to the criminal information filed against DENSO Corporation, DENSO Corporation and its co-conspirators carried out the conspiracy by:

- a. participating in meetings, conversations, and communications in the United States and Japan to discuss the bids and price quotations to be submitted to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere;
- b. agreeing during those meetings, conversations, and communications, on bids and price quotations to be submitted to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere;
- c. agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, to allocate the supply of [Heater Control Panels] sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere on a model-by-model basis;
- d. agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, to coordinate price adjustments requested by an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere;

REDACTED

- e. submitting bids, price quotations, and price adjustments to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere in accordance with the agreements reached;
- f. selling [Heater Control Panels] to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices;
- g. accepting payment for [Heater Control Panels] sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices;
- h. engaging in meetings, conversations, and communications in the United States and elsewhere for the purpose of monitoring and enforcing adherence to the agreed-upon bid-rigging and price-fixing scheme; and
- i. employing measures to keep their conduct secret, including but not limited to using code names and meeting at private residences or remote locations.

157. Multiple DENSO executives have entered into guilty pleas in connection with the DOJ's ongoing investigation into antitrust violations in the automotive parts industry.

158. Norihiro Imai and Makoto Hattori agreed to plead guilty to participating in a combination and conspiracy to rig bids for, to fix, and maintain the prices of, Heater Control Panels sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere.

159. According to a plea agreement filed on March 26, 2012, Norihiro Imai agreed to pay a $20,000 fine, serve one year and one day in prison, and plead guilty to a one-count information charging him with participating in a conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, Heater Control Panels sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere from August 2006 until at least July 2009 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1. As the court stated during Mr. Imai's plea hearing "the offense is serious by virtue of the amount of money that is involved in the criminal conduct adding to the cost of vehicles and sums paid initially by the buyers of these products the auto companies that paid the inflated prices and then passed those inflated prices on to everyone down the chain”

160. Imai also agreed to assist the DOJ with its ongoing investigation.

161. According to a plea agreement filed on June 27, 2012, Makoto Hattori agreed to pay a $20,000 fine, serve 14 months in prison, and plead guilty to a one-count information charging him with participating in a conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, Heater Control Panels sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere from January 2005 until at least July 2008 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

162. Hattori also agreed to assist the DOJ with its ongoing investigation.

163. On May 21, 2013, the DOJ announced that two more DENSO executives agreed to plead guilty for their roles in international conspiracies to fix prices and rig bids of certain automotive components installed in U.S. cars: (1) Yuji Suzuki; and (2) Hiroshi Watanabe.

164. Yuji Suzuki agreed to pay a $20,000 fine, serve 16 months in prison, cooperate with the DOJ’s ongoing investigation, and plead guilty to engaging in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize and maintain the prices of, electronic control units and heater control panels sold to Toyota Motor Corporation and Toyota Motor Engineering and Manufacturing North America Inc. in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as August 2005 until at least December 2008, for the electronic control units conspiracy, and from as early as July 2005 until at least December 2008, for the heater control panels conspiracy.

165. Hiroshi Watanabe agreed to pay a $20,000 fine, serve 15 months in prison, cooperate with the DOJ’s ongoing investigation, and to plead guilty to participating in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize and maintain the prices of, heater control panels sold to Toyota from at least as early as June 2008 and continuing until at least February 2010 in the United States and elsewhere.

166. According to the DOJ, Suzuki, Watanabe, and their co-conspirators reached agreements to fix prices and allocate bids, and took measures such as using code names and meeting in secret to cover their tracks.

167. On February 20, 2014, the DOJ announced that a former DENSO executive, Kazuaki Fujitani, agreed to serve one year and one day in a U.S. prison and to plead guilty to obstruction of justice charges in connection with the DOJ's investigation into the Heater Control Panels conspiracy.

168. According to the DOJ, Fujitani deleted numerous e-mails and electronic documents in February and March 2010 upon learning that the FBI had executed a search warrant on Denso's U.S. subsidiary. The DOJ press release stated that "[t]he deleted documents contained communications between Denso and one or more of its competitors regarding requests for price quotation made by Toyota for heater control panels for the Toyota Avalon."

169. On January 30, 2012, the DOJ announced that Yazaki Corporation ("Yazaki") had agreed to pay a $470 million fine and plead guilty to a three-count criminal information charging Yazaki with: (1) participating in a combination and conspiracy with its co-conspirators to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, automotive wire harnesses and related products sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as January 2000 and continuing until at least February 2010 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1; (2) participating in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, instrument panel clusters sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere, from at least as early as December 2002 until at least February 2010, in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1; and (3) participating in a combination and conspiracy with its co-conspirators to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of fuel senders sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as March 2004 and continuing until at least February 2010 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

170. In addition to Yazaki, five executives from Yazaki (all Japanese nationals) – Tsuneaki Hanamura, Ryoji Kawai, Shigeru Ogawa, Kazuhiko Kashimoto and Hisamitsu Takada – pleaded guilty to their participation in a conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of automotive wire harnesses sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1. These five Yazaki executives will each pay a $20,000 criminal fine and serve prison time ranging from 15 months to two years. The two-year sentences would be the longest term of imprisonment imposed on a foreign national voluntarily submitting to U.S. jurisdiction for a Sherman Act antitrust violation.

171. On September 29, 2011, the DOJ announced that Furukawa Electric Co. Ltd. (“Furukawa”) had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $200 million fine for its role in a criminal price-fixing and bid-rigging conspiracy involving the sale of automotive wire harnesses to automobile manufacturers.

REDACTED

172. Three of Furukawa's executives also pleaded guilty to the same conspiracy. The court sentenced two of the executives to 15 and 18 month prison sentences, to be served in the United States.

173. A number of additional companies have pleaded guilty to fixing the prices of other automotive parts, including: automotive wire harnesses; instrument panel clusters; fuel senders; heater control panels; occupant safety restraint systems; automotive bearings; windshield wipers; windshield washer systems; starters; radiators; air flow meters; valve timing control devices; inverters; motor generators; fuel injection systems; alternators; ignition coils; anti-vibration rubber parts; air conditioning systems; automatic transmission fluid warmers; fan motors; power window motors; switches; steering angle sensors; HID ballasts; automotive lamps; electronic throttle bodies; pinion-assist type electric powered steering assemblies; and constant-velocity-joint boot products. These companies include: Fujikura Ltd.; GS Electech, Inc.; TRW Deutschland Holding GmbH; Autoliv, Inc.; Takata Corporation; Nippon Seiki Co., Ltd.; JTEKT Corporation; Mitsuba Corporation; Mitsubishi Electric Corporation; Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd.; NSK Ltd.; Panasonic Corporation; T. RAD Co., Ltd.; Tokai Rika Co.; Valeo Japan Co., Ltd.; Stanley Electric Co. Ltd.; Diamond Electric Mfg. Co. Ltd.; Hitachi Automotive Systems Ltd.; Yamashita Rubber Co., Ltd.; Aisan Industry Co. Ltd.; Bridgestone Corporation; Koito Mfg. Co., Ltd.; Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd.; and Showa Corporation. The majority of these violators pleaded guilty to engaging in bid-rigging, price-fixing, and market allocation during the same time period as the Defendants with multiple OEMs as their targets, including Toyota, Honda, Suzuki, Mazda, Mitsubishi, Subaru, Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, German manufacturers and unnamed automobile manufacturers.

REDACTED

174. The U.S. government has said its automotive parts cartel criminal investigation will continue and other suppliers could be charged.

175. “This criminal activity has a significant impact on the automotive manufacturers in the United States, Canada, Japan and Europe and has been occurring for at least a decade. The conduct had also affected commerce on a global scale in almost every market where automobiles are manufactured and/or sold,” said FBI’s Special Agent in Charge Andrew G. Arena.

176. “When companies partner to control and price fix bids or contracts, it undermines the foundation of the United States’ economic system,” Arena also said. “The FBI is committed to aggressively pursuing any company involved in antitrust crimes.”

177. On February 15, 2013, Scott Hammond, the Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the Antitrust Division, discussed the DOJ’s ongoing automotive parts investigation in a Thomson Reuters article. He said “[t]he investigation is broader than what we’ve announced so far [The investigation] is still very much ongoing, but it already appears to be the biggest criminal antitrust investigation that we’ve ever encountered. I say the biggest with respect to the impact on U.S. businesses and consumers, and the number of companies and executives that are subject to the investigation.” (emphasis added).

178. On July 10, 2013, the European Commission fined four wire harness suppliers, Yazaki, S-Y Systems, Furukawa Electric and Leoni, a total of $182 million for taking part in cartels that affected Toyota, Nissan, Honda and Renault.

179. On September 11, 2013, two Fujikura, Ltd. executives were indicted for conspiring to fix the price of wire harness assemblies to Fuji Heavy Industries, the maker of Subaru automobiles.

REDACTED

180. On September 26, 2013, nine additional Japanese automotive suppliers, including Defendant Mitsuba Corporation, agreed to plead guilty to conspiracy charges and pay more than $740 million in fines for their roles in rigging the prices of more than 30 different products.

181. The diagram below, which was prepared by the DOJ, illustrates some of the recent guilty pleas and the corresponding automotive parts to which the various manufacturers have admitted to price-fixing.

182. To date, twenty-seven companies and thirty-five individuals have been charged in the Antitrust Division's ongoing investigation into price fixing and bid rigging in the auto parts industry. Each of the twenty-seven companies have either pleaded guilty or have agreed to plead guilty and have agreed to pay approximately $2.3 billion in criminal fines. Twenty-four of the thirty-five individuals have plead guilty or agreed to plead guilty. Twenty-two of those individuals have been sentenced to serve time in U.S. prisons, with sentences ranging from a year and one day to two years.

F. Damage to Plaintiffs and Other Automobile Dealers Caused by Defendants' Illegal Activities

183. Defendants' conspiracy resulted in Defendants charging inflated prices to firms who directly purchased Power Window Motors from them and in those purchasers raising their prices to subsequent purchasers.

184. Having paid higher prices for components of the cars they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes and the Power Window Motors they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes, firms who sold such Power Window Motors and vehicles passed Defendants' overcharges on to Plaintiffs and the Classes.

185. Plaintiffs and the Classes are entitled to the overcharges they paid for Power Window Motors.

186. Plaintiffs have standing and have suffered damage compensable by indirect purchaser laws and they and members of the classes they seek to represent have sustained significant damage and injury as a result of Defendants' conspiracy.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

187. Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action under Rule 23(a) and (b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, seeking equitable and injunctive relief on behalf of the following class (the "Nationwide Class"):

All automobile dealers that, during the Class Period, (a) indirectly purchased Power Window Motors manufactured or sold by a Defendant or any current or former subsidiary or affiliate thereof or any co-conspirator, or (b) purchased vehicles containing Power Window Motors manufactured or sold by a Defendant or any current or former subsidiary, affiliate thereof or co-conspirator.

REDACTED

188. Plaintiffs also bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action under Rule 23(a) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure seeking damages pursuant to the antitrust, unfair competition, unjust enrichment, and consumer protection laws of the states whose laws are set forth in the Second and Third Claims below, as well as the unjust enrichment laws of Missouri, Massachusetts and Illinois. The states whose laws are set forth in the Second and Third Claims below, as well as Missouri, Massachusetts, and Illinois, are collectively referred to as the “Indirect Purchaser States.” These claims are brought by Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and entities in the Indirect Purchaser States listed in the Second, Third and Fourth Claims as follows (the “Damages Class”):

All automobile dealers, in the Indirect Purchaser States, that, during the Class Period (a) indirectly purchased Power Window Motors manufactured or sold by one of the Defendants or any current or former subsidiary or affiliate thereof, or any co-conspirator or (b) purchased vehicles containing Power Window Motors manufactured or sold by one of the Defendants or any current or former subsidiary, affiliate or co-conspirator thereof.

189. The Nationwide Class and the Damages Class are referred to herein as the “Classes.” Excluded from the Classes are the Defendants, their parent companies, subsidiaries and affiliates, any co-conspirators, federal governmental entities and instrumentalities of the federal government, states and their subdivisions, agencies and instrumentalities, any judicial officer presiding over this matter, persons who purchased Power Window Motors directly, and persons in the End-Payor Class, as defined in the End-payor complaint.

190. While Plaintiffs do not know the exact number of the members of the Classes, Plaintiffs believe there are (at least) thousands of members in each Class.

191. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Classes. This is particularly true given the nature of the Defendants’ and their co-conspirators’ conspiracy, which was generally applicable to all the members of both Classes, thereby making appropriate relief with respect to the Classes as a whole. Such questions of law and fact common to the Classes include, but are not limited to:

- (a) Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in a combination and conspiracy among themselves to fix, raise, maintain or stabilize the prices of Power Window Motors sold in the United States;
- (b) The identity of the participants of the alleged conspiracy;
- (c) The duration of the alleged conspiracy and the acts carried out by the Defendants and their co-conspirators in furtherance of the conspiracy;
- (d) Whether the alleged conspiracy violated the Sherman Act, as alleged in the First Claim for Relief;
- (e) Whether the alleged conspiracy violated state antitrust and unfair competition law, and/or state consumer protection law, as alleged in the Second and Third Claims for Relief;
- (f) Whether the Defendants unjustly enriched themselves to the detriment of the Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes, thereby entitling Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes to disgorgement of all benefits derived by the Defendants, as alleged in the Fourth Claim for Relief;
- (g) Whether the conduct of the Defendants and their co-conspirators, as alleged in this Complaint, caused injury to the business or property of Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes;
- (h) The effect of the alleged conspiracy on the prices of Power Window Motors sold in the United States during the Class Period;
- (i) Whether Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes had any reason to know or suspect the conspiracy, or any means to discover the conspiracy;
- (j) Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators fraudulently concealed the conspiracy's existence from Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes;
- (k) The appropriate injunctive and related equitable relief for the Nationwide Class; and
- (l) The appropriate class-wide measure of damages for the Damages Class.

192. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the members of the Classes, and Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Classes. Plaintiffs and all members of the Classes are similarly affected by the Defendants' wrongful conduct in that they paid artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors purchased indirectly from the Defendants and/or their co-conspirators.

193. Plaintiffs' claims arise out of the same common course of conduct giving rise to the claims of the other members of the Classes. Plaintiffs' interests are coincident with, and not antagonistic to, those of the other members of the Classes. Plaintiffs are represented by counsel who are competent and experienced in the prosecution of antitrust and class action litigation.

194. The questions of law and fact common to the members of the Classes predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, including legal and factual issues relating to liability and damages.

195. Class action treatment is a superior method for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, in that, among other things, such treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently and without the unnecessary duplication of evidence, effort and expense that numerous individual actions would engender. The benefits of proceeding through the class mechanism, including providing injured persons or entities with a method for obtaining redress for claims that might not be practicable to pursue individually, substantially outweigh any difficulties that may arise in the management of this class action.

196. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Classes would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for the Defendants.

PLAINTIFFS AND THE CLASSES SUFFERED ANTITRUST INJURY

197. The Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy had the following effects, among others:

REDACTED

- (a) Price competition has been restrained or eliminated with respect to Power Window Motors;
- (b) The prices of Power Window Motors have been fixed, raised, maintained, or stabilized at artificially inflated levels;
- (c) Indirect purchasers of Power Window Motors have been deprived of free and open competition;
- (d) Defendants charged direct purchasers of their Power Window Motors inflated prices as a result of their conspiracy;
- (e) Having paid higher prices for components of the cars they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes and the Power Window Motors they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes, firms who sold Defendants' Power Window Motors and vehicles to Plaintiffs and the Classes passed Defendants' overcharges on to them.
- (f) Defendants' overcharges passed through each level of distribution as they traveled to Plaintiffs and the Classes;
- (g) Automobile dealers purchasing Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors have been deprived of free and open competition; and
- (h) Indirect purchasers of Power Window Motors paid artificially inflated prices.

198. During the Class Period, Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes paid supracompetitive prices for Power Window Motors as a result of the Defendants' conspiracy.

199. An increase in the prices of Power Window Motors caused an increase in the price of vehicles during the class period.

200. The markets for Power Window Motors and vehicles are inextricably linked and intertwined because the market for Power Window Motors exists to serve the vehicle market. Without the vehicles, the Power Window Motors have little to no value because they have no independent utility. Indeed, the demand for vehicles creates the demand for Power Window Motors. As stated in the 2010 Annual Report of Lear Corporation, an automobile parts supplier: "Our sales are driven by the number of vehicles produced by the automotive manufacturers, which is ultimately dependent on consumer fleet demand for automotive vehicles."

REDACTED

201. Power Window Motors are identifiable, discrete physical products that remain essentially unchanged when incorporated into a vehicle. As a result, Power Window Motors follow a traceable physical chain of distribution from the Defendants to Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes, and any costs attributable to Power Window Motors can be traced through the chain of distribution to Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes.

202. Just as Power Window Motors can be physically traced through the supply chain, so can their price be traced to show that changes in the prices paid by direct purchasers of Power Window Motors affect prices paid by indirect purchasers of new motor vehicles containing Power Window Motors and Power Window Motors purchased for repair purposes.

203. Power Window Motors can be removed from a finished vehicle and replaced.

204. The Power Window Motors subject to the Defendants' conspiracy and at issue in this lawsuit only have one use: to be inserted into vehicles. Whether Power Window Motors are sold by themselves or in vehicles, their purpose is to be inserted into vehicles.

205. The purpose of the conspiratorial conduct of the Defendants and their co-conspirators was to raise, fix, rig or stabilize the price of Power Window Motors and, as a direct and foreseeable result, the price of new motor vehicles containing Power Window Motors and the price of Power Window Motors purchased for repair purposes. Economists have developed techniques to isolate and understand the relationship between one "explanatory" variable and a "dependent" variable in those cases when changes in the dependent variable are explained by changes in a multitude of variables, even when all such variables may be changing simultaneously. That analysis - called regression analysis - is commonly used in the real world and in litigation to determine the impact of a price increase on one cost in a product (or service) that is an assemblage of costs. Thus, an economist can isolate and identify only the impact of an increase in the price of Power Window Motors on prices for new motor vehicles even though such products contain a number of other components whose prices may be changing over time. A regression model can explain how variation in the price of Power Window Motors affects changes in the price of new motor vehicles. In such models, the price of Power Window Motors would be treated as an independent or explanatory variable. The model can isolate how changes in the price of Power Window Motors impact the price of new motor vehicles containing Power Window Motors while controlling for the impact of other price-determining factors.

206. The precise amount of the overcharge impacting the prices of new motor vehicles containing Power Window Motors can be measured and quantified.

207. By reason of the violations of the antitrust law alleged herein, Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes have sustained injury to their businesses or property, having paid higher prices for Power Window Motors than they would have paid in the absence of the Defendants' and their co-conspirators' illegal contract, combination, or conspiracy, and, as a result, have suffered damages in an amount presently undetermined. This is an antitrust injury of the type that the antitrust laws were meant to punish and prevent, and Plaintiffs' and Class members' damages are measurable.

PLAINTIFFS' CLAIMS ARE NOT BARRED BY THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

A. The Statute of Limitations Did Not Begin to Run Because Plaintiffs Did Not And Could Not Discover Their Claims

208. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege the allegations set forth above.

209. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes had no knowledge of the combination or conspiracy alleged herein, or of facts sufficient to place them on inquiry notice of the claims set forth herein, until (at the earliest) September 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Mitsuba Corporation's anticipated guilty plea.

REDACTED

210. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes are purchasers who purchased automobiles or purchased Power Window Motors to replace or repair damaged or defective Power Window Motors in their automobiles. They had no direct contact or interaction with the Defendants in this case and had no means from which they could have discovered the combination and conspiracy described in this Complaint before September 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Mitsuba Corporation anticipated guilty plea.

211. No information in the public domain was available to the Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes prior to September 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Mitsuba Corporation anticipated guilty plea, that revealed sufficient information to suggest that the Defendants were involved in a criminal conspiracy to price-fix and rig bids for Power Window Motors. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes had no means of obtaining any facts or information concerning any aspect of the Defendants' dealings with OEMs or other direct purchasers, much less the fact that they and their co-conspirators had engaged in the combination and conspiracy alleged herein.

212. For these reasons, the statute of limitations as to Plaintiffs' and the Classes' claims did not begin to run, and has been tolled with respect to the claims that Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes have alleged in this Complaint.

B. Fraudulent Concealment Tolled the Statute of Limitations

213. In the alternative, application of the doctrine of fraudulent concealment tolled the statute of limitations on the claims asserted herein by Plaintiffs and the Classes. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes did not discover, and could not discover through the exercise of reasonable diligence, the existence of the conspiracy alleged herein until September 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Mitsuba Corporation's anticipated guilty plea.

REDACTED

214. Because the Defendants' agreements, understandings, and conspiracies were kept secret until September 26, 2013, Plaintiffs and members of the Classes were unaware before that time of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, and they did not know before then that they were paying supracompetitive prices for Power Window Motors throughout the United States during the Class Period. No information, actual or constructive, was ever made available to Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes that indicated to Plaintiffs that they were being injured by the Defendants' unlawful conduct.

215. The affirmative acts of the Defendants alleged herein, including acts in furtherance of the conspiracy, were wrongfully concealed and carried out in a manner that precluded detection.

216. Defendants had secret communications with their co-conspirators to collusively fix prices, rig bids, and allocate markets for Power Window Motors.

217. As alleged in the Information filed against Mitsuba Corporation, the Mitsuba Defendants "employ[] measures to keep their conduct secret, including, but not limited to, using code names and meeting at remote locations."

218. In connection with the Heater Control Panels guilty pleas, the DOJ has also stated that DENSO employees and their co-conspirators "took measures such as using code names and meeting in secret to cover their tracks."

219. Defendants also concealed their conspiracy by submitted bids to OEMs, to give the appearance of competition, despite having already determined among themselves who would win each bid.

220. By its very nature, the Defendants' and their co-conspirators' anticompetitive conspiracy was inherently self-concealing. Power Window Motors are not exempt from antitrust regulation, and thus, before September 26, 2013, Plaintiffs reasonably considered it to be a competitive industry. Accordingly, a reasonable person under the circumstances would not have been alerted to begin to investigate the legitimacy of the Defendants' Power Window Motors prices before September 26, 2013.

221. As set forth in the Information filed against Mitsuba Corporation, and which Mitsuba Corporation has admitted to, the Mitsuba Defendants also destroyed and/or altered documents in an effort to cover up their unlawful activity. Mitsuba Corporation pleaded guilty to a charge of obstruction of justice in which it explicitly admitted to "altering, destroying, mutilating, concealing, covering up, falsifying and making false entries in documents and tangible objects with the intent to impede, obstruct, and influence" the DOJ's investigation in the price-fixing of several automotive parts, including Power Window Motors.

222. According to Mitsuba Corporation's plea agreement, in February 2010, three of Mitsuba Corporation's senior executives, one of whom was also a senior executive of Defendant American Mitsuba Corporation, learned that the offices of a co-conspirator had been searched by law enforcement authorities in connection with an investigation of possible antitrust violations, and they directed their subordinates and other employees to "conceal and destroy documents and electronic files" that were in the possession, custody, and control of the Mitsuba Defendants in the United States and Japan. According to Mitsuba Corporation's plea agreement, such evidence was concealed and destroyed.

223. In connection with the Heater Control Panels guilty pleas, the DOJ has announced that a DENSO executive "deleted numerous e-mails and electronic documents in February and March 2010 upon learning that the FBI had executed a search warrant on Denso's U.S. subsidiary."

REDACTED

224. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes could not have discovered the alleged contract, conspiracy or combination at an earlier date by the exercise of reasonable diligence because of the deceptive practices and techniques of secrecy employed by the Defendants and their co-conspirators to avoid detection of, and fraudulently conceal, their contract, combination, or conspiracy.

225. Because the alleged conspiracy was both self-concealing and affirmatively concealed by the Defendants and their co-conspirators, Plaintiffs and members of the Classes had no knowledge of the alleged conspiracy, or of any facts or information that would have caused a reasonably diligent person to investigate whether a conspiracy existed, until September 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Mitsuba Corporation's anticipated guilty plea.

226. For these reasons, the statute of limitations applicable to Plaintiffs' and the Classes' claims was tolled and did not begin to run until September 26, 2013.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act
(on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Nationwide Class)

227. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the preceding paragraphs.

228. The Defendants and unnamed co-conspirators entered into and engaged in a contract, combination, or conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1).

229. The acts done by the Defendants as part of, and in furtherance of, their and their co-conspirators' contract, combination, or conspiracy were authorized, ordered, or done by their officers, agents, employees, or representatives while actively engaged in the management of their affairs.

REDACTED

230. At least as early as January 2000, and continuing until at least the filing of this Complaint, the exact dates being unknown to Plaintiffs, the Defendants and their co-conspirators entered into a continuing agreement, understanding and conspiracy in restraint of trade to artificially fix, raise, stabilize, and control prices for Power Window Motors, thereby creating anticompetitive effects.

231. The anticompetitive acts were intentionally directed at the United States market for Power Window Motors and had a substantial and foreseeable effect on interstate commerce by raising and fixing prices for Power Window Motors throughout the United States.

232. The conspiratorial acts and combinations have caused unreasonable restraints in the market for Power Window Motors.

233. As a result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and other similarly situated indirect purchasers in the Nationwide Class who purchased Power Window Motors have been harmed by being forced to pay inflated, supracompetitive prices for Power Window Motors.

234. In formulating and carrying out the alleged agreement, understanding and conspiracy, the Defendants and their co-conspirators did those things that they combined and conspired to do, including but not limited to the acts, practices and course of conduct set forth herein.

235. The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' conspiracy had the following effects, among others:

(a) Price competition in the market for Power Window Motors has been restrained, suppressed, and/or eliminated in the United States;

REDACTED

(b) Prices for Power Window Motors sold by the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been fixed, raised, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high, non-competitive levels throughout the United States; and

(c) Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class who purchased Power Window Motors indirectly from the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been deprived of the benefits of free and open competition.

236. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class will continue to be subject to Defendants' price-fixing, bid-rigging, and market allocations, which will deprive Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class of the benefits of free competition, including competitively-priced Power Window Motors and vehicles.

237. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class will continue to lose funds due to overpayment for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors because they are required to purchase vehicles and Power Window Motors to continue to operate their businesses.

238. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class continue to purchase vehicles and Power Window Motors.

239. Vehicles and Power Window Motors continue to be sold at inflated and supracompetitive prices.

240. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class will be at the mercy of Defendants' unlawful conduct until the Court orders an injunction.

241. The alleged contract, combination, or conspiracy is a per se violation of the federal antitrust laws.

REDACTED

242. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class are entitled to an injunction against the Defendants, preventing and restraining the violations alleged herein.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of State Antitrust Statutes
(on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class)

243. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the preceding paragraphs.

244. From as early as January 2000 until at least the filing of this Complaint, the Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in a continuing contract, combination or conspiracy with respect to the sale of Power Window Motors in unreasonable restraint of trade and commerce and in violation of the various state antitrust statutes set forth below.

245. The contract, combination, or conspiracy consisted of an agreement among the Defendants and their co-conspirators to fix, raise, inflate, stabilize, and/or maintain at artificially supracompetitive levels the prices for Power Window Motors and to allocate customers for Power Window Motors in the United States.

246. In formulating and effectuating this conspiracy, the Defendants and their co-conspirators performed acts in furtherance of the combination and conspiracy, including:

(a) participating in meetings and conversations among themselves in the United States and elsewhere during which they agreed to price Power Window Motors at certain levels, and otherwise to fix, increase, inflate, maintain, or stabilize effective prices paid by Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class with respect to Power Window Motors sold in the United States;

(b) allocating customers and markets for Power Window Motors in the United States in furtherance of their agreements; and

(c) participating in meetings and conversations among themselves in the United States and elsewhere to implement, adhere to, and police the unlawful agreements they reached.

REDACTED

247. The Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in the actions described above for the purpose of carrying out their unlawful agreements to fix, maintain, increase, or stabilize prices and to allocate customers with respect to Power Window Motors.

248. The Defendants' anticompetitive acts described above were knowing and willful and constitute violations or flagrant violations of the following state antitrust statutes.

249. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the Arizona Revised Statutes, §§ 44-1401, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Arizona; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Arizona; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

(d) By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of Ariz. Rev. Stat. §§ 44-1401, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all forms of relief available under Ariz. Rev. Stat. §§ 44-1401, et seq.

REDACTED

250. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the California Business and Professions Code, §§ 16700, et seq.

(a) During the Class Period, the Defendants and their co-conspirators entered into and engaged in a continuing unlawful trust in restraint of the trade and commerce described above in violation of Section 16720, California Business and Professions Code. The Defendants have acted in violation of Section 16720 to fix, raise, stabilize, and maintain prices of, and allocate markets for, Power Window Motors at supracompetitive levels.

(b) The aforesaid violations of Section 16720, California Business and Professions Code, consisted, without limitation, of a continuing unlawful trust and concert of action among the Defendants and their co-conspirators, the substantial terms of which were to fix, raise, maintain, and stabilize the prices of, and to allocate markets for, Power Window Motors.

(c) For the purpose of forming and effectuating the unlawful trust, the Defendants and their co-conspirators have done those things which they combined and conspired to do, including but in no way limited to the acts, practices and course of conduct set forth above and the following: (1) Fixing, raising, stabilizing, and pegging the price of Power Window Motors; and (2) Allocating among themselves the production of Power Window Motors.

(d) The combination and conspiracy alleged herein has had, inter alia, the following effects: (1) Price competition in the sale of Power Window Motors has been restrained, suppressed, and/or eliminated in the State of California; (2) Prices for Power Window Motors sold by the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been fixed, raised, stabilized, and pegged at artificially high, non-competitive levels in the State of California and throughout the United States; and (3) Those who purchased Power Window Motors directly or indirectly from the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been deprived of the benefit of free and open competition.

(e) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property in that they paid more for Power Window Motors than they otherwise would have paid in the absence of the Defendants' unlawful conduct. As a result of the Defendants' violation of Section 16720 of the California Business and Professions Code, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek treble damages and their cost of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee, pursuant to Section 16750(a) of the California Business and Professions Code.

251. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the District of Columbia Code Annotated §§ 28-4501, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout the District of Columbia; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout the District of Columbia; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in the District of Columbia and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in the District of Columbia, were deprived of free and open competition, including in the District of Columbia; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in the District of Columbia and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in the District of Columbia, paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors, including in the District of Columbia.

REDACTED

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected District of Columbia commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

(d) By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of District of Columbia Code Ann. §§ 28-4501, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all forms of relief available under District of Columbia Code Ann. §§ 28-4501, et seq.

252. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the Hawaii Revised Statutes Annotated §§ 480-1, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motor price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Hawaii; (2) Power Window Motor prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Hawaii; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors.

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected Hawaii commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

REDACTED

253. By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of Hawaii Revised Statutes Annotated §§ 480-4, et seq.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all forms of relief available under Hawaii Revised Statutes Annotated §§ 480-4, et seq.

254. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the Illinois Antitrust Act, 740 Illinois Compiled Statutes 10/1, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motor competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Illinois; (2) Power Window Motor prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Illinois; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors.

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected Illinois commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

255. (d) By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of 740 Illinois Compiled Statutes 10/1, et seq. Accordingly,

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on Utah commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

(d) By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of Utah Code Annotated §§ 76-10-911, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under Utah Code Annotated §§ 76-10-911, et seq.

273. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of 9 Vermont Stat. Ann. §§ 2453, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motor price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Vermont; (2) Power Window Motors price were raised, fixed, maintained and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Vermont; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors.

REDACTED

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on Vermont commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

(d) By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of 9 Vermont Stat. Ann. § 2453, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under 9 Vermont Stat. Ann. § 2453, et seq. Plaintiffs are entitled to relief pursuant to 9 Vermont Ann. Stat. § 2465 and any other applicable authority.

274. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the West Virginia Code §§ 47-18-1, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout West Virginia; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout West Virginia; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in West Virginia and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in West Virginia were deprived of free and open competition, including in West Virginia; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in West Virginia and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in West Virginia paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors or vehicles containing Power Window Motors, including in West Virginia.

REDACTED

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on West Virginia commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

(d) By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of West Virginia §§ 47-18-1, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under West Virginia §§ 47-18-1, et seq.

275. The Defendants have entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the Wisconsin Statutes §§ 133.01, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Wisconsin; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Wisconsin; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors.

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on Wisconsin commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

REDACTED

(d) By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into agreements in restraint of trade in violation of Wisconsin Stat. §§ 133.01, et seq. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under Wisconsin Stat. §§ 133.01, et seq.

276. Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class in each of the above states have been injured in their business and property by reason of the Defendants' and their co-conspirators' unlawful combination, contract, conspiracy and agreement. Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have paid more for Power Window Motors than they otherwise would have paid in the absence of the Defendants' unlawful conduct. This injury is of the type the antitrust laws of the above states were designed to prevent and flows from that which makes the Defendants' conduct unlawful.

277. In addition, the Defendants have profited significantly from the aforesaid conspiracy. The Defendants' profits derived from their anticompetitive conduct come at the expense and detriment of the Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class.

278. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class in each of the above jurisdictions seek damages (including statutory damages where applicable), to be trebled or otherwise increased as permitted by a particular jurisdiction's antitrust law, and costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, to the extent permitted by the above state laws.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of State Consumer Protection Statutes
(on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class)

279. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the preceding paragraphs.

280. The Defendants engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, deceptive or fraudulent acts or practices in violation of the state consumer protection and unfair competition statutes listed below.

REDACTED

281. The Defendants have knowingly entered into an unlawful agreement in restraint of trade in violation of the Arkansas Code Annotated, § 4-88-101.

(a) The Defendants knowingly agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling, and/or maintaining at non-competitive and artificially inflated levels, the prices at which Power Window Motors were sold, distributed, or obtained in Arkansas and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class.

(b) The aforementioned conduct on the part of the Defendants constituted “unconscionable” and “deceptive” acts or practices in violation of Arkansas Code Annotated, § 4-88-107(a)(10).

(c) The Defendants’ unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motor price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Arkansas; (2) Power Window Motor prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Arkansas; (3) Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors.

(d) During the Class Period, the Defendants’ illegal conduct substantially affected Arkansas commerce and consumers.

(e) As a direct and proximate result of the unlawful conduct of the Defendants, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

REDACTED

282. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of Arkansas Code Annotated, § 4-88-107(a)(10) and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

283. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, deceptive or fraudulent acts or practices in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17200, et seq.

(a) During the Class Period, the Defendants committed and continue to commit acts of unfair competition, as defined by Sections 17200, et seq. of the California Business and Professions Code, by engaging in the acts and practices specified above.

(b) This claim is instituted pursuant to Sections 17203 and 17204 of the California Business and Professions Code, to obtain restitution from the Defendants for acts, as alleged herein, that violated Section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code, commonly known as the Unfair Competition Law.

(c) The Defendants' conduct as alleged herein violated Section 17200. The acts, omissions, misrepresentations, practices and non-disclosures of the Defendants, as alleged herein, constituted a common, continuous, and continuing course of conduct of unfair competition by means of unfair, unlawful, and/or fraudulent business acts or practices within the meaning of California Business and Professions Code, Section 17200, et seq., including, but not limited to, the following: (1) the violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, as set forth above; (2) the violations of Section 16720, et seq., of the California Business and Professions Code, set forth above;

(d) The Defendants' acts, omissions, misrepresentations, practices, and non-disclosures, as described above, whether or not in violation of Section 16720, et seq., of the

REDACTED

California Business and Professions Code, and whether or not concerted or independent acts, are otherwise unfair, unconscionable, unlawful or fraudulent;

(e) The Defendants' acts or practices are unfair to purchasers of Power Window Motors (or vehicles containing them) in the State of California within the meaning of Section 17200, California Business and Professions Code; and

(f) Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated through California; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout California; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in California and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in California, were deprived of free and open competition, including in California; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in California and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in California, paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors, including in California.

(g) The Defendants' acts and practices are fraudulent or deceptive within the meaning of Section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code.

(h) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class are entitled to full restitution and/or disgorgement of all revenues, earnings, profits, compensation, and benefits that may have been obtained by the Defendants as a result of such business acts or practices.

(i) The illegal conduct alleged herein is continuing and there is no indication that the Defendants will not continue such activity into the future.

REDACTED

(j) The unlawful and unfair business practices of the Defendants have caused and continue to cause Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class to pay supracompetitive and artificially-inflated prices for Power Window Motors (or vehicles containing them). Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class suffered injury in fact and lost money or property as a result of such unfair competition.

(k) The conduct of the Defendants as alleged in this Complaint violates Section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code.

(l) As alleged in this Complaint, the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been unjustly enriched as a result of their wrongful conduct and by the Defendants' unfair competition. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class are accordingly entitled to equitable relief including restitution and/or disgorgement of all revenues, earnings, profits, compensation, and benefits that may have been obtained by the Defendants as a result of such business practices, pursuant to the California Business and Professions Code, Sections 17203 and 17204.

284. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, Fla. Stat. §§ 501.201, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Florida; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Florida; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors.

REDACTED

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected Florida commerce and consumers.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured and are threatened with further injury.

(d) The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of Florida Stat. § 501.201, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

285. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the New Mexico Stat. § 57-12-1, et seq.

(a) The Defendants and their co-conspirators agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining at non-competitive and artificially inflated levels, the prices at which Power Window Motors were sold, distributed or obtained in New Mexico and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class.

(b) Plaintiffs were not aware of Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy and were therefore unaware that they were being unfairly and illegally overcharged. There was a gross disparity of bargaining power between the parties with respect to the price charged by Defendants for Power Window Motors. Defendants had the sole power to set that price and Plaintiffs had no power to negotiate a lower price. Moreover, Plaintiffs lacked any meaningful choice in purchasing Power Window Motors because they were unaware of the unlawful overcharge and because they had to purchase Power Window Motors in order to be able to operate their vehicles. Defendants' conduct with regard to sales of Power Window Motors, including their illegal conspiracy to secretly fix the price of Power Window Motors at supracompetitive levels and overcharge consumers, was substantively unconscionable because it was one-sided and unfairly benefited Defendants at the expense of Plaintiffs and the public. Defendants took grossly unfair advantage of Plaintiffs.

(c) The aforementioned conduct on the part of the Defendants constituted “unconscionable trade practices,” in violation of N.M.S.A. Stat. § 57-12-3, in that such conduct, inter alia, resulted in a gross disparity between the value received by Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class and the prices paid by them for Power Window Motors as set forth in N.M.S.A., § 57-12-2E due to the inflated prices paid by Plaintiffs and Class members for vehicles and Power Window Motors.

(d) The Defendants’ unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout New Mexico; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout New Mexico; (3) Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors.

(e) During the Class Period, the Defendants’ illegal conduct substantially affected New Mexico commerce and consumers.

(f) As a direct and proximate result of the unlawful conduct of the Defendants, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class have been injured and are threatened with further injury.

REDACTED

(g) The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of New Mexico Stat. § 57-12-1, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

286. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349, et seq.

(a) The Defendants and their co-conspirators agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which Power Window Motors were sold, distributed or obtained in New York and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class.

(b) Defendants deceptively led purchasers, such as Plaintiffs and Class members, to believe that the Power Window Motors they had purchased as replacements and inside vehicles had been sold at legal competitive prices, when they had in fact been sold at collusively obtained inflated prices, that were passed on to them.

(c) The conduct of the Defendants described herein constitutes consumer-oriented deceptive acts or practices within the meaning of N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349, which resulted in injuries to purchasers and broad adverse impact on the public at large, and harmed the public interest of New York State in an honest marketplace in which economic activity is conducted in a competitive manner.

(d) The Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout New York; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout New York; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in New York and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in New York were deprived of free and open competition, including in New York; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in New York and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in New York paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors, including in New York.

REDACTED

(e) Because of Defendants' unlawful trade practices in the State of New York, New York purchasers who indirectly purchased Power Window Motors were misled to believe that they were paying a fair price for Power Window Motors or the price increases for Power Window Motors were for valid business reasons; and similarly situated purchasers were affected by Defendants' conspiracy.

(f) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected New York commerce and New York purchasers.

(g) During the Class Period, the Defendants directly, or indirectly and through affiliates they dominated and controlled, manufactured, sold and/or distributed Power Window Motors in New York.

(h) Defendants knew that their unlawful trade practices with respect to pricing Power Window Motors would have a broad impact, causing class members who indirectly purchased Power Window Motors to be injured by paying more for Power Window Motors than they would have paid in the absence of Defendants' unlawful trade acts and practices.

(i) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available pursuant to N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349 (h).

REDACTED

287. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of North Carolina Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1, et seq.

(a) The Defendants and their co-conspirators agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which Power Window Motors were sold, distributed or obtained in North Carolina and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class.

(b) The conduct of the Defendants described herein constitutes consumer-oriented deceptive acts or practices within the meaning of North Carolina law, which resulted in injury to purchasers and broad adverse impact on the public at large, and harmed the public interest of North Carolina purchasers in an honest marketplace in which economic activity is conducted in a competitive manner.

(c) The Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout North Carolina; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout North Carolina; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in North Carolina and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in North Carolina were deprived of free and open competition, including in North Carolina; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in North Carolina and/or purchased Power Window Motors or vehicles in North Carolina paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors, including in North Carolina.

REDACTED

(d) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected North Carolina commerce and purchasers in North Carolina.

(e) Defendants deceptively concealed their unlawful activities by conducting meetings and conversations in secret.

(f) During the Class Period, the Defendants directly, or indirectly and through affiliates they dominated and controlled, manufactured, sold and/or distributed Power Window Motors in North Carolina.

(g) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek actual damages for their injuries caused by these violations in an amount to be determined at trial and are threatened with further injury. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of North Carolina Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

288. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act, S.C. Code Ann. §§ 39-5-10, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects:

(1) Power Window Motor price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout South Carolina; (2) Power Window Motor prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout South Carolina; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors and vehicles containing Power Window Motors.

REDACTED

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on South Carolina commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

289. Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of S.C. Code Ann. §§ 39-5-10, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

290. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of 9 Vermont § 2451, et seq.

(a) The Defendants and their co-conspirators agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce in a market that includes Vermont by affecting, fixing, controlling, and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which Power Window Motors were sold, distributed, or obtained in Vermont.

(b) The Defendants deliberately failed to disclose material facts to Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class concerning their unlawful activities and artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors. The Defendants owed a duty to disclose such facts, and breached that duty by their silence. The Defendants misrepresented to all purchasers during the Class Period that their Power Window Motors prices were competitive and fair.

(c) The Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Power Window Motors price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout Vermont; (2) Power Window Motors prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout Vermont; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Power Window Motors.

(d) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' violations of law, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class suffered an ascertainable loss of money or property as a result of the Defendants' use or employment of unconscionable and deceptive commercial practices as set forth above. That loss was caused by the Defendants' willful and deceptive conduct, as described herein.

(e) The Defendants' deception, including their omissions concerning the price of Power Window Motors, likely misled all purchasers acting reasonably under the circumstances to believe that they were purchasing Power Window Motors at prices born by a free and fair market. The Defendants' misleading conduct and unconscionable activities constitutes unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of 9 Vermont § 2451, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Unjust Enrichment
on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class

291. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the preceding paragraphs.

292. Plaintiffs bring this claim under the laws of all states listed in the Second and Third Claims, supra. Plaintiffs also bring this claim under the laws of Missouri, Massachusetts and Illinois on behalf of the Plaintiffs who have their primary places of business in those three states and the class members in those three states.

293. As a result of their unlawful conduct described above, the Defendants have and will continue to be unjustly enriched. The Defendants have been unjustly enriched by the receipt of, at a minimum, unlawfully inflated prices and unlawful profits on sales of Power Window Motors.

294. The Defendants have benefited from their unlawful acts and it would be inequitable for the Defendants to be permitted to retain any of the ill-gotten gains resulting from the overpayments made by Plaintiffs or the members of the Damages Class for Power Window Motors.

295. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class are entitled to the amount of the Defendants' ill-gotten gains resulting from their unlawful, unjust, and inequitable conduct. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class are entitled to the establishment of a constructive trust consisting of all ill-gotten gains from which Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class may make claims on a pro rata basis.

296. Pursuit of any remedies against the firms from whom Plaintiffs and the Class members purchased vehicles containing Power Window Motors and Power Window Motors subject to the Defendants' conspiracy would have been futile, given that those firms did not take part in the Defendants' conspiracy.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Accordingly, Plaintiffs respectfully request that:

A. The Court determine that this action may be maintained as a class action under Rule 23(a), (b)(2) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and direct that reasonable notice of this action, as provided by Rule 23(c)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, be given to each and every member of the Classes;

B. That the unlawful conduct, contract, conspiracy, or combination alleged herein be adjudged and decreed:

REDACTED

- (a) An unreasonable restraint of trade or commerce in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act;
- (b) A per se violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act;
- (c) Acts of unjust enrichment by Defendants as set forth herein; and
- (d) An unlawful combination, trust, agreement, understanding and/or concert of action in violation of the state antitrust and unfair competition and consumer protection laws as set forth herein.

C. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class recover damages, to the maximum extent allowed under such laws, and that a joint and several judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class be entered against the Defendants in an amount to be trebled to the extent such laws permit;

D. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class recover damages, to the maximum extent allowed by such laws, in the form of restitution and/or disgorgement of profits unlawfully gained from them;

E. The Defendants, their affiliates, successors, transferees, assignees and other officers, directors, partners, agents and employees thereof, and all other persons acting or claiming to act on their behalf or in concert with them, be permanently enjoined and restrained from in any manner continuing, maintaining or renewing the conduct, contract, conspiracy, or combination alleged herein, or from entering into any other contract, conspiracy, or combination having a similar purpose or effect, and from adopting or following any practice, plan, program, or device having a similar purpose or effect;

REDACTED

F. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class be awarded restitution, including disgorgement of profits the Defendants obtained as a result of their acts of unfair competition and unjust enrichment;

G. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes be awarded pre- and post- judgment interest as provided by law, and that such interest be awarded at the highest legal rate from and after the date of service of this Complaint;

H. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes recover their costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, as provided by law; and

I. Plaintiffs and members of the Classes have such other and further relief as the case may require and the Court may deem just and proper.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs demand a trial by jury, pursuant to Rule 38(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, of all issues so triable.
